SUBJECT: 2002 NCBIA WINTER CODE SEMINARS

The NCBIA Education Committee is proud to offer three Winter Code Seminars for 2002. Our continued goal is to provide beneficial continuing education for inspectors, contractors, and design professionals. The International Codes are our primary focus this year.

Monday will be devoted entirely to the 2002 NC Edition of the International Building Code.

The 2002 NC Edition of the International Residential Code will be covered on Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon topics include a Fire and Smoke Modeling presentation and some helpful information from the National Evaluation Service.

On Wednesday morning we will discuss Accessibility in Multi-Family Dwellings. Fire Alarm and Sprinkler Systems will be the focus on Wednesday afternoon.

We welcome all inspectors, contractors, and design professionals. Daily registration is available if you cannot attend the entire seminar. We hope you will take advantage of one these valuable educational opportunities.
